What we do:

We are an Anangu-led organisation, governed by women's law, authority and culture. We deliver health, social and cultural services for all Anangu.

Our Values:

We believe in the strength of Anangu people, culture, and the collective agency of women. We are dedicated to delivering more and better choices for our communities. We are committed to Malparara way – a cross cultural practice framework specific to NPYWC that respects the contribution Anangu and non-Indigenous people, working alongside each other, bring to the organisation

We are a trauma-informed organisation and this guides our work.

Your Team:

Atunypa Wiru Minyma Uwankaraku Service is a domestic and family violence support and advocacy service for Aboriginal women and children living in the NPY region. The service is informed by a holistic relational understanding of violence which acknowledges the key role of family and community relationships.

The Service provides crisis response support and case management with an emphasis on facilitating access to the justice system. This role sits within our Specialist Education Team which supports our Case Management Team. Various forms of reflective supervision are provided for this role. Mentoring may also be provided depending on experience of the successful candidate.

Your Role:

The Domestic and Family Violence Service (DFVS) Case Worker is responsible for supporting and advocating with, and for, women and children who may be experiencing, or at risk of, domestic violence, in a culturally safe manner, ensuring they are provided with a comprehensive support service.

Working alongside the Community Development team is essential to the Case Worker role, as per the Strengthening Community Capacity to End Violence Framework. The Practice Framework can be found on our website:

<https://www.npywc.org.au/publications/>.

Your Responsibilities:

- Accept and document details of client referrals.
- Provide telephone advice on available services and assistance.
- Support and assist clients to make reports about domestic violence to the police.
- Support and assist clients to access services, such as the Alice Springs Women's Shelter / health services.
- Where possible, collaborate with other NPY Women's Council (NPYWC) services such as the Child and Family Wellbeing Service and Youth Program.
- Support clients at risk of experiencing domestic violence with emergency travel, accommodation and food.
- Facilitate cultural agency.
- Assist in maintaining the client database as per funding requirements and client records.
- Represent the Service in liaison and meetings with other agencies as required.
- Participate in regular professional supervision with your manager.
- Attend whole team Case Management meetings.
- Adhere to the AASW code of ethics and NPYWC Code of Conduct.
- Participate in regular professional development through either formal study or attending trainings, conferences and workshops as well as keeping a current working and contextual knowledge of current domestic violence research, theory and practise.

Individual Case Management

- Perform effective, efficient and compassionate face-to-face and telephone intervention through Intake and Assessment duties as per staff roster.
- Develop individual Case Management plans, including in conjunction with any other teams at NPYWC as per policy and procedure.
- Conduct and record risk assessments in accordance with jurisdictional legislation and / or practise.
- Assist clients to develop safety plans.
- Attend one or more of the following: The Alice Springs Magistrates Court or the Magistrates Courts in the remote communities of the NPY region to support victims of domestic violence.
- Attend and actively participate in interagency meetings, specifically the Family Safety Frameworks across the varying jurisdictions.
- Assist / support clients to obtain restraining orders.
- Keep accurate and clear written records of client details and assistance on client files for internal and external stakeholder in accordance with the AASW guidelines and NPYWC Policy and Procedures, on record keeping and information management.
- Develop and maintain working relationships with service providers in community.
- Ensure the link between individual case management and the community program, such as with the facilitation of group work.

Community Program

- Assist in developing a tailored Community Program for each of the designated communities, thereby contributing to the DFVS Framework and strengthening engagement with the communities.
- Assertive outreach to 2-3 communities on a regular basis within the NPY region with community development at the forefront of the DFVS approach.
- Engage with community members to establish regular women's meetings, as a requirement of each assertive outreach trip to the designated communities.
- Development of relationships with groups of women to explore experiences of violence and resistance.
- Recording stories of resistance by approaching community work with a trauma-informed lens.
- Maintain records of women's meetings and be actively involved in evaluation of the community program alongside the community women.

Skills and Experience:

- Demonstrated experience and understanding of trauma-informed complex case management in a domestic violence context or closely related human services context.
- Demonstrated theoretical understanding and knowledge of domestic violence, ideally in an Aboriginal Australian cultural context.
- Understanding of vicarious trauma and worker self-care, and demonstrate good personal resilience.
- Highly developed advocacy skills for use with police, health services and internal and external agencies.
- Excellent interpersonal communication skills, including an ability to negotiate and resolve conflict.
- Excellent organisation and planning skills for managing and prioritising competing demands in a complex working environment.
- Good computer and data entry skills.

Qualifications:

- A relevant degree in Social Work, Community Development or related undergraduate or post-graduate qualification, or;
- A willingness to undertake studies in social work following commencement of position.
- Extensive experience in the Domestic and Family Violence context as a case manager / counsellor.

Remuneration:

- $72,492.13 - $82,018.19 per year (negotiable based on experience)
- Additional 9.5% Superannuation
- Generous Leave Entitlements
- Salary Packaging Benefits
- Retention Bonus

Employment Conditions:

- Work in a manner consistent with NPYWC Values, Code of Conduct, Rules and advocacy positions.
- Follow and work within NPYWC policies and procedures.
- Be responsible and accountable for your own and others health, safety and wellbeing.
- If applicable, the employee will provide the highest standards of service to clients at all levels by modelling service excellence that meets the needs of clients and enhances the profile of NPYWC.
- Some positions will require working in remote communities for extended periods and out of hours' work requiring overnight absences.
- Remote positions include accommodation. Usually this is stand-alone accommodation, however from time to time, based on accommodation and service delivery demands, this situation may change and staff may be required to co-share a NPYWC leased or owned property.
- Every employee is required to have (or willing to obtain) a current and valid criminal history check, and if applicable, a Working with Children Check.
- We require all staff to have a current Australian manual driver's licence.
- A current First Aid certificate or a willingness to undertake training.
- Experience in operating a manual 4WD vehicle or a willingness to undertake training.
- A good level of health and fitness that matches the requirements of the role. If so required by NPY Women's Council you may be required to undergo a pre-employment medical assessment.

We are committed to building a respectful and inclusive workplace, appointing the best person for the role and supporting diversity.

All information will be held in the strictest of confidence.
