What we do:

We are an Anangu-led organisation, governed by women's law, authority and culture. We deliver health, social and cultural services for all Anangu.

Our Values:

We believe in the strength of Anangu people, culture, and the collective agency of women. We are dedicated to delivering more and better choices for our communities. We are committed to Malparara way – a cross cultural practice framework specific to NPYWC that respects the contribution Anangu and non-Indigenous people, working alongside each other, bring to the organisation

We are a trauma-informed organisation and this guides our work.

Your Team:

The Child and Family Wellbeing Service is made up of three programs; Child Nutrition, Child and Family Intensive Support Service (Walytjapiti) and Child Advocacy.

The primary focus of the Child and Family Wellbeing Service (CFWS) is to deliver targeted, efficient and effective community services within the NPY region, seeking the best possible outcomes with regard to improving the quality of life for Anangu children and communities.

Your Role:

The Walytjapiti Case Manager will provide therapeutic trauma informed case management with families who are at risk of entering the child protection system.

Your Responsibilities:

- Assist families to increase their supports and connections within community to increase their capacity to meet the needs of their children through family oriented, client centred case management

- Deliver case management support including developing a case plan, engage in reviews of these case plans, obtaining consent to participate in the program and facilitate communication between all parties.
- Provide education, training, advocacy and practical support to carers and/or families needing ongoing support. This will include communication, coordination, liaison and referrals with other NPYWC Programs, community health services, clinics, child welfare agencies, and other human service agencies operating in the NPY region, ensuring that the strengths and needs of the family have been assessed.
- Develop and maintain partnerships with relevant organisation staff such as Aboriginal Legal Services, Police Services, Child Protection Departments Workers
- Provide appropriate advocacy for carers and children to have access to culturally appropriate support, education, resources and services so that personal development and self-worth of clients is promoted.
- Appropriately assist specified families in regard to underlying issues that affect general health and well-being, including educational, emotional and developmental needs of children in referred families through family oriented, client centred case management
- Support community and regional based initiatives that will ultimately help improve the quality of life, health and safety of clients
- Administer and maintain accurate records, data collections and reports as required by the funding. This includes client case file management; workshop statistics; filing of meeting minutes; administration of Emergency Relief and brokerage funds; and reports to team meetings, the CFWS Manager, NPYWC Directors and Communities.
- Working in a Malparara (together/side by side) partnership with an Anangu (Aboriginal) worker.
- Be responsible for the maintenance and accountability of vehicle and project equipment.
- Attend and provide reports to NPYWC Directors, General Meetings and other meetings as required.
- Attend training courses as required.
- Other reasonable and lawful duties as directed.

Skills and Experience:

- Extensive case management or development experience with families and children.
- Extensive knowledge of trauma informed practice and working with families with trauma experiences.
- Understanding of vicarious trauma, including self-care.

Qualifications:

- Tertiary qualifications in Social Work, Psychology, Counselling or Community Development and/or relevant experience.
